Make a Difference in Your Community!

Environmental protection begins with you and it can start in your community. Get out and get involved! Start volunteering in your local community and better your community and your environment. Volunteering can provide people with new and exciting experiences which includes, meeting new people and learning new skills. Get out and make a difference in your community by participating in local volunteer programs or even starting one of your own programs.

Questions to Ask Yourself Before Volunteering

- ◆ What skill sets do you have to offer?
- ◆ Who do you feel comfortable working with?
- ◆ Do you work well with others or do you feel more comfortable working alone?
- ◆ How hard are you willing to work to better your community?
- ◆ When can you start and how much time can you put towards volunteering?

Searching For Environmental Volunteer Work

- ◆ Contact your local municipality for local volunteer programs.
- ◆ Contact local environmental organizations.
- ◆ Check local newspapers.
- ◆ Get involved with local organizations that volunteer on a regular basis.
- ◆ Contact local college environmental groups.
- ◆ Start your own volunteer efforts in your community.
